Foreword

WE Find that, as the school year comes to a close, there are certain unforgettable events which have taken place. In order that these pleasant memories may be permanently recorded, we take pleasure in publishing the "HAVILOOK", which we hope will be as enjoyable to you as its creation has been for us.

Dedication

TO The men who are fighting for our country, giving their best and everything they have so that democracy might be preserved, we dedicate this issue of the "HAVILOOK."

The Boys Behind the Guns

WE Regret that these pictures represent only a few of our boys in service. Shortage of film to make glossy prints, and inability to get proper addresses made it impossible to have more pictures, yet our hearts and our prayers go out to all of the boys where ever they may be.

L. W. ENSIGN

This year, as in the past, one of the most pleasant activities of the winter has been the planning and assembling of the latest edition of the HAVILOOK. Each Senior has done his task well. Many of the fondest memories of high-school days cling to some staff assignment or some casual occurrence at a Havilook staff meeting. I feel sure that time spent on the HAVILOOK has always been time well spent—here has been a chance to create. I congratulate this class and those of the past on their splendid job of getting and preserving a record of this school in action.

Next year's seniors and those to graduate during the war are of necessity to lose this privilege. The Photographer is rationed on film—no pictures. The Engraver is limited on metal—no plates. Many business men have little of their regular merchandise in stock—no advertising.

Yes, we hate to say it but this is the last HAVILOOK for the duration. We'll go to press again when Hitler and Tojo are little names in history books.

General Staff

We, the Seniors of the Haviland-Scott School, dedicate this page to our Board of Education, in sincere appreciation of their insight, foresight and varied personalities through which they have made available to us a higher type of education upon which depends the future of our community.

Predictions of Things To Come

The purple mist of the evening was falling softly when I circled my plane low over New York, leaving behind me, in Europe, Lester Sherer, a newspaper reporter, witnessing the execution of Hitler. Faintly I remember also Betty Hofacker, the matron of a large orphanage, who has thousands of war children under her care with Chuck, her husband, assisting her.

As I step from the plane, I see the famous metropolitan opera singer, Annabelle Cavinder, with her leading man, Warren Cadwallader, who is to sing in the famous opera, "Romeo and Juliet."

As I relax in the most famous hotel in New York with a paper in my hand, I see an old school chum, Earl Yoh, who has published a book entitled "The Bloody Mess," from the Battle of Vicksburg.

Journeying on I meet Mary Ella Laukhuf in Washington, who is now the President's private secretary, and she tells me that Delmar Stoller is now owner of a great chicken ranch near Latty.

As I fly low over the city of Berne, Indiana, I see a large sign which says, "Come in and Buy That Super-Duper Bigger and Better Furniture"—owners, Jim L. Adams and Son.

Roy Green, who was so fond of guns in his youth, is now in Iowa teaching the WAACS how to shoot.

On my last stop, I see Margaruite Smith in Hollywood approaching me, and telling me of her appearance in the Ziegfield Folies of 1953 as the famous tap dancer of the day.

Now, as I enter the streets of my home town, I hear on the lips of my friends the name of Dr. Fast. They are talking about his great invention. Instead of hooking bombs up to the spark plugs, he now has an invention to explode them with a lever.

Now the mist is rising and I find myself sitting in front of the fire wondering if the class of '43 will ever get together again and enjoy the great friendship they once had.

We Bequeath

As we come to the end of our high school career, we find ourselves with a sound and disposing mind, do hereby make this our last will and testament:

First: To the Juniors we leave our unsolved problems and the name of Seniors, according to custom.

Second: To the Sophomores we leave our wisdom, and good manners.

Third: To the Freshmen, we leave our dignity and ability to match pennies in study hall. (We make good money.)

SPECIAL—

Charles Fast leaves his band piece, "Anchors Aweigh," to Betty Goble. It seems she lost hers.

Warren Cadwallader wills his music ability to Bill Hooker.

"Maggie" Smith leaves her ability to say anything at any time to Opal Ladd.

Earl Yoh leaves his way with the women to Wayne Zielke.

Delmar Stoller leaves his quiet ways to Jack Rogers.

Lester Sherer wills his great basket ball ability to Ed. Pfost.

Jim leaves his curls to Kent Pond. (Take 'em Kent their women killers.)

Thelma leaves her ability to argue in American History to Vernabel Murphy. (You do all right in Bookkeeping, Murphy.)

Mary Ella leaves her ability to study hard to who ever wants it. (Keep to the right and don't push—someone might get hurt.)

Roy Green leaves his meek lowly spirit to Clara, "Pete" Yoh.

Annabelle leaves her ability to bluff teachers to Vera Williams.

Betty Hofacker leaves her ready smile and friendly manner to June Rhodus.

The Seniors of the shorthand class leave their books to anyone crazy enough to take them.

A couple of Senior boys will their luck in skipping the sixth period of school to who ever can get away with it.

SYNOPSIS

The scene opens in the garden of Colonel Staunton's home in Kentucky. A surprise party for Jeanie is being given by her uncle. Jeanie meets handsome Young Richard Morgan, who has been her brother Phillip's roommate at College in the North, and is on his way to visit him. When he arrives, the Colonel discovers that he and Jeanie are attracted by each other, and orders him to leave the house the next morning.

The Mixed Chorus this year consisted of thirty-three girls and twenty-two boys under the direction of Miss Dorothy Burner, who has proven her ability in directing our musical choruses. Among our achievements, have been the presentation of the operetta, "An Old Kentucky Garden," and appearances on the Christmas and Farmers' Institute Programs. Our singing was confined to school functions this year, since no District or State Contests were held.

True to its name, this organization is really that. Its meetings are held on the second Thursday of every month and membership is open to every woman who is interested in the Club objectives which are, specifically, to help the school and the Community.

In recent years, the Community Club has more than lived up to its name and aims. Last year, under the leadership of Wanda Jenkins, and due to her tireless efforts, the club purchased new uniforms for the School Band. These have been greatly appreciated and serve to make us proud of the appearance of our band. Another example of the Community Club's interest in our school is the set of draperies and curtains which grace our auditorium. These were provided, at club expense, several years ago.

SYNOPSIS

ACT I

Living room of Larry Elliott's suburban home in late summer! Larry's ward arrives and to everyone's surprise is a girl. To most everyone she is quite unwanted, but she will not leave.

ACT II

Same scene two weeks later. Charlie, seeing that lack of education is a hindrance, resorts to several ways of bettering herself. In the process she is framed into quite a serious charge. Uncle Aleck saves the day.

ACT III

Same scene eleven months later. Charlie has acquired POLISH and proves it to all.
